Dear Mr. Warder and Associates:

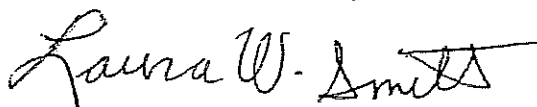

"And it came to pass." I thank God that this day has finally come when we conclude the building project for our new sanctuary. I thank the Lord for allowing your company to take over and complete construction after a period of dormancy because it had become necessary to terminate the previous contractor.

By God's grace we were able to persevere and overcome several obstacles along the way. In spite of unusual hindrances, God turned each seemingly insurmountable hurdle into a learning experience and opportunity for growth in faith and trusting in the Lord.

I appreciate the long lasting relationship that has been established with Jerry Warder, Benjamin Yankey, R. Sterling Hughes, and Edie Roberts. I have always been welcomed into the office and greeted with an attitude of wanting to know what could be done to address my concerns. For this I am truly grateful. I remain confident that if needed I will be able to contact you in the future for advice or assistance.

Each time we enter into our sanctuary we enter with thanksgiving and praise. We are thankful unto the Lord and we bless His name. So thank you Mr. Warder and Associates for allowing the Lord to use you to bring this project to an expected end.

With the Love of Christ,

Laura W. Smith,
Interim Pastor
